Go Green Page 12 Approx. 10 min.	Opener/Energizer. An energizer helps loosen people up and gets them thinking about the material and its practical application within the dealership, particularly to their job. The objective of this exercise is to re-emphasize the importance of communication about MPVI results.	In the article Go Green, the author writes about the importance of reviewing MPVI results with customers before they leave. We need to be sure the customer understands the value of the tool/process. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Where is our weak spot with the MPVI? What part of the process needs to be improved? 2. What elements of the MPVI should be reviewed with customers every time — regardless of the technician's scores?
The End is Critical Page 5 Approx. 15 min.	The objective of this exercise is to help your consultants understand that every aspect of service needs to be done well because one mistake or oversight can be reason for a defection. Work with your team to identify where within the customer's experience are you most vulnerable to error and defection.	In the article The End is Critical, the author writes about a near perfect service experience. Everything was exceptional until the customer discovered a rear window was left open during a car wash. That one error may have cost the dealership a good customer. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What parts of our process are the most susceptible to errors? What can be done to correct it? 2. What can we do ensure 100% quality in every aspect of the customer's experience?
All Approx. 5 min.	Wrap Up — The objective is to have your consultants provide feedback about information they found relevant and helpful in the magazine that was not covered in the meeting. Tip: Do not adjourn without a response to this question. (You may need to offer your own answer and then ask what each person thinks about it.) Tip: Another objective of this activity is to set the stage for next month's meeting. Consultants will prepare to answer the questions you may ask. This is a way to hold them accountable for reading the magazine.	We have talked about: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Go Green • The End is Critical In addition to these subjects, what other one article or bit of information stands out for you in this month's Consultant magazine?
